Summer Normal School.

To the Public School Teachers of Virginia:

We are much pleased to announce to you that the School authorities at Richmond have decided to hold one of their popular and profitable Summer Normal Schools at Charlottesville this Summer. It opens July 2d and continues for four weeks ending July 30th. The committee in charge have arranged for board and lodging at $12 for the entire term of four weeks. Our people who take great interest in education welcome the event of the public school teachers of Virginia; and ample provision for the entertainment of the large number who are likely to attend have been made at the hotels, boarding houses and private houses at the uniform figure, where they will be conveniently located, pleasantly entertained in congenial and good company. The committee in charge will arrange for popular lectures, entertainments, excursions, etc., (for which our city and University and surrounding historical country is so well adapted) from time to time, in order to relieve the regular routine of school work.

The high Piedmont section in which Charlottesville is located has long been noted for its healthfulness and salubrity of climate, and the city was never more healthful and absolutely free from infectious or contagious diseases of all kinds than now. Lectures will be held in the large assembly hall and class rooms of the new Midway School Building, one of the handsomest and best ventilated school buildings in the south; situated on a high elevation in the center of the city, from which views can be obtained of the University, Monticello (the home of Jefferson,) and other easily accessible points of historic interest too numerous to mention. The committee in charge will arrange for the reception of all on their arrival here, and to have them and their baggage promptly and safely conveyed to their boarding places at uniform low prices. The benefits to be derived are so great and the cost of your sojourn in this classical and hospitable little city so merely nominal, that we earnestly beg you as a matter of duty to the noble profession of which you are a member, and to the grand old State which has generously provided this means for improvement and progress of our public schools, to at once make arrangements to come.

All teachers expecting to attend should send their names to the State Superintendent's office on or before June 25th. After June 25th register at the office of the local manager here.

Any further information cheerfully supplied on application to the General Secretary of the State Board of Instruction, or to the Conductor, or the local manager.

F. A. Massie, Local Manager, Charlottesville, Va.
